<section>

India's defence forces comprise the Indian Army, Navy, and Air Force, supported by paramilitary and strategic units, making them one of the world's largest military organizations. They safeguard national sovereignty, protect borders, and are undergoing rapid modernization under the Defence Forces Vision 2047 to become a future-ready, multi-domain force.

The three main branches:

Indian army

Indian navy

Indian air force

1. Indian army

Motto:

"Services Before Self" (Seva Paramo Dharma)

The Indian Army is the largest component of India's defence forces, tasked with safeguarding the nation's land borders, maintaining internal security, and assisting in humanitarian and disaster relief operations. It is one of the world's largest standing armies, with over 1.2 million active personnel and nearly 900,000 reserves.

2. Indian navy

Motto:

"May the lord of the water be auspicious unto us"(Sham No Varunah)

 The Indian Navy is the maritime branch of India's armed forces, responsible for safeguarding the nation's vast coastline, protecting sea trade routes, and ensuring maritime security in the Indian Ocean region. It plays a crucial role in both defence and diplomacy, projecting India's presence across international waters.

<h2>3.Indian air force</h2>

Motto:

"touch the sky with glory"(Nabha Sparsham Deeptam)

The Indian Air Force (IAF) is the aerial branch of India's armed forces, responsible for defending the nation's airspace, conducting aerial warfare, and providing strategic airlift capabilities. Established officially on 8 October 1932, it has grown into one of the world's most advanced air forces.

<h2>Other Associated and Paramilitary Forces</h2>

apart from the three core branches, India's defence mechanisms are supported by various other forces:

- Assam Rifles

- Border Security Force (BSF)

- Central Reserve Police Force (CRPF)

- Indo-Tibetan Border Police (ITBP)

- Central Industrial Security Force (CISF)

- National Security Guard (NSG)

Key Defence Terminology

Mod

Mod most commonly stands for “Ministry of Defence” in India and other countries, but the abbreviation “mod” also has several other meanings depending on context, such as modification, moderator, or a cultural style.

CDS

The Chief of Defence Staff (CdS) is the highest-ranking military officer in India, created to provide unified leadership to the armed forces. The CdS acts as the principal military advisor to the Defence Minister and coordinates between the Army, Navy, and Air Force.

DRDO

DRDO stands for Defence Research and Development Organisation. DRDO is India's premier agency for research and development in defence technologies.
